Moog introduces the first payload processor GPU based single board computer that offers radiation tolerance by design. This product offers the low power x86 compatible